

12/2/86, p. 1

SRP has been wonderfully productive of late; hundreds of pages are now ready to be inserted in PN... 85 (which I will have re-microfilmed in 1987 & as PN... 85 will become PN... 87) and the 1986 Griswold descendants list has been produced and SRP is making good, very good, progress in sorting through the mountain of papers that have to be gone through for Volumes I or II of PN... De plus, much work is being accomplished by the CHSM - in 301 & 302; for the annual meeting; for the sale of Calendars; De plus, I am getting done some of my year-end Baptist Church duties. Very gratifying indeed. The "moving out" session on 11/29/86 was very upsetting - HLRP insisted that DWP and I get rid of a large quantity of the 14 Dante Avenue books and move at least one of the book cases and the bed from the bedroom at the top of the stairs to the right. The "green" bedroom suite is a real treasure - painted 19th century furniture - the original paint + painted floral decorations. Very choice. There used to be a "brown" suite, but that was given to RTP and family some years ago - doubtless it has been destroyed by their time. DWP & I carted down to the Golf Room a veritable mountain of books - "put them in the barn or get rid of them" said HLRP. DWP & I are very productive in a word of books. DWP & I are, for that reason, very protective of the books that we have gathered together at the Golf Course. As we sorted through books and moved "out" furniture, I resolved to one day move into the barn - the "salon des refusés" as it were.

12/2/86, p. 2

DWP & I were both very mad that we were being forced to do what we were doing - moving out rejected book & furniture. Neither one of us gave full reign / vent to our anger. In fact, both of us completely masked our anger. For my part, I said nothing for fear of saying too <sup>in effect</sup> much. It was very upsetting to be told to "clear out" of the one bedroom at the Golf Course that is un-claimed and where SRP sleeps when there. I don't think that HLRP saw the "Clean up" session in those terms - but cleaning up and sorting through means, in this instance, that SRP is thrown out, and that is very upsetting. Mr Russell (formerly) means a great deal to me and I feel like I have been sent packing. I shall have to bring up the topic with HLRP and clarify the matter. The situation is highly complex: HLRP wants to "sort through" and "tidy up"; DWP & Holly need room for their expanding family - HLRP has mobilized Holly and together the two of them are pushing around DWP & SRP - very upsetting. DWP & Holly have had more than one "session" about "too many books" and so HLRP and Holly are singing the same song, in this instance. I will make a special request that I be allowed to store one trunk at the Golf Course - filled with "insurance" copies of SRP's works in progress and as yet un-microfilmed works; "insurance" meaning "copies just in case my copies should be damaged or lost."